

Top 20 Job Posting Sites in Canada:

Our Rank	Job Board Name	Posting Options	Description
1.	Indeed	Free and paid (PPC) options.	Indeed is a top job board in Canada and worldwide. It has the most candidates, and remains a free job posting site (although you can pay to boost posts).
2.	Google for Jobs	Free.	Google recently added Google for Jobs to its search capabilities. Now your jobs can show up in searches like "jobs near me" if you set your website up properly, or work with a 3rd party to help you.
3.	Glassdoor	Free and paid.	Glassdoor's database of millions of employer reviews by real employees attracts many great candidates to its site, helping to quickly rise as one of the top job posting sites in Canada.
4.	Eluta	Paid, $199 for 30 days.	Eluta is Canada's very own job search engine. It boasts Apple, EA, and Intel as companies that use its site to do Canadian hiring.
5.	Workopolis	Paid, from $99 to $199 per month for subscriptions, or $595 - $795 per posting.	Workopolis is another homegrown Canadian jobs portal. Posting here also pushes your jobs to sites such as JobRapido and Adzuna.
6.	Job Bank	Free.	Job Bank is run by the Canadian government, and is offered as a free job posting site for businesses. You'll need to have a Canadian payroll account number to register.
7.	WOWJobs	Free with paid options.	Post jobs for free on this Canadian job board that is reminiscent of Indeed. Easy to use and fast.
8.	Monster	Paid, starting at $605 for 30 days.	The Canadian version of Monster is every bit of a beast as it is around the world. Great place to reach a wide variety of candidates.
9.	Working.com	Paid.	Working.com is a jobs portal that connects you to 10 of the top newspapers in Canada to get the word about about your jobs.
10.	TorontoJobs.ca	Paid, starting at $149 per single posting.	Hiring in and around Toronto? This is the niche job board for you to reach locals in the area.

11.	Canada's Association of IT Professionals (CIPSIT)	Paid.	Great niche jobs site for finding IT professionals in Canada.
12.	CareerBuilder	Paid, starting at $489 for a single job.	CareerBuilder is well-known as a job posting site worldwide, and has a .ca version geared for Canadian hiring. Excellent general-purpose board with a broad reach.
13.	CareerJet	Paid, starting at .10 cents per click with minimum spend of $100.	CareerJet is another worldwide board with a .ca site for Canada.
14.	Craigslist	Paid.	The world's largest classified site has a strong presence in Canada too. Great place to post jobs for individual cities inexpensively.
15.	Hot Jobs in Canada	Paid, starting at $299 for a single posting.	General job board that focuses on Canada, but with options to post to the U.S. as well. Hard to ignore the world's largest professional network when you're posting jobs. Great for finding Canadian professionals.
16.	LinkedIn	Paid.
17.	Jobboom	Paid.	Need to hire in Quebec? Here's a great niche job board that focuses on the region.
18.	Jobs.ca	Paid, starting at $325 per posting.	Jobs.ca is a jobs portal in Canada that allows you to choose from a variety of niche job boards to post on, including HR, aeronautical, health care, retail, and much more.
19.	Work in Non-Profits.ca	N/A	Niche job site for hiring in the Canadian non-profit sector.
20.	Eco Canada	Paid, starting at $300 per posting.	Another niche job board, this one focused on jobs in Canada's environmental sector.

Free job posting sites BC

- WorkBC.ca
- BCjobs.ca
- Indeed
- Glassdoor
- Google for Jobs